Sun Yat-sen Journal of Humanities

1. Sun Yat-sen Journal of Humanities is an English-Chinese bilingual journal founded in April 1993 by the College of Liberal Arts at National Sun Yat-sen University, Taiwan. The Journal, with its biannual publication in summer and winter, solicits scholarly papers concerning various topics in the study of human sciences:

   A. We welcome essays of interest to those concerned with the study of literature, history, musicology and other fields of humanities. Submission will be expected to contain original work and should not have been published or presented in abridged or other form elsewhere. (Qualified master thesis or doctoral dissertations will be deemed as presented and will not be accepted by the Editorial Board)
   B. We also welcome reviews on books which were published within recent three years and concerned with literature, history, philosophy, linguistics, musicology and other fields of humanities. The review will not normally exceed 6000 words and the book reviewed should be attached to the submission.

2. Only full/part-time teachers in public/private colleges and research members of academic institutions may submit articles to Sun Yat-sen Journal of Humanities.
3. Essays submitted to the Journal should be in typescript and should be sent in duplicate. With each submission please include the Submission Form, affidavit, electronic database service agreement and the electronic file of the article.
4. Experts or scholars will be invited by the Editorial Board to evaluate anonymously each submission. The author's name or any possible reference for identifying the author should not appear in the article. Article recommended by the reviewers will be accepted for publication.
5. Authors with essays or book reviews published in the Journal will receive twenty offprints of their articles and one copy of the issue in which their articles appear.
6. Essays must conform to the MLA Style Manual for documentation.
7. Authors are responsible for securing permission to reproduce any illustration in the Journal, and responsible for their own essays, book reviews, or other forms of writing.
8. Submissions will not normally be returned.
9. If any submission being accepted by Sun Yat-sen Journal of Humanities, the authors agree to grant Sun Yat-sen Journal of Humanities to sublicense

National Central Library or any other database provider to reproduce, transmit publicly by Internet, download, print and browse by authorized users. The submissions may be changed in order to meet the requirement of such database.
